ANNEX I: More information about CONCORDi 2019

Format

The Conference will be structured in 5 plenary sessions (with interventions by invited speakers and round-table panellists and parallel sessions for a total of 20 parallel slots; in 14 of them will be presented three papers and in 4 of them 4 papers to be presented in each of them (66 papers in total), and a poster session with about 20 scientific works displayed. All presented papers and displayed posters have been selected following the call for papers. There are no paper and power point templates of the Conference; therefore authors can use their own templates.

An active role in Conference is foreseen by keynote speakers, scientific committee members, chairs, speakers, panellists and other attendees of the Conference who are expected to animate the debate during the entire Conference.

→ First day (Wednesday, 25 September 2019): A main plenary session (first day) opened by Opening Plenary (1): The Conference will be inaugurated with the opening speech by Vladimír Šucha (Director-General, Joint Research Centre - JRC, European Commission) who will also act as Chair of the plenary opening session. The first invited keynote will be Slawomir Tokarski (Director of Innovation and Advanced Manufacturing, Directorate General for Internal Market, Industry, Entrepreneurship and SMEs, European Commission) who will particular focus on the industrial policy challenges until 2030. Dirk Pilat (Deputy Director - Directorate for Science, Technology and Innovation of the OECD) will offer the second keynote speech and will also launch the joint EC/JRC - OECD/STI report "Transforming industry: the role of Artificial Intelligence". Bronwyn H. Hall (University of California at Berkeley, USA) will act as moderator. Each of the invited speakers will have about 20' of time. It will follow a short debate and Q&A session of about 10' of time.

Parallel Sessions I and II: There will be the first round of parallel sessions (with articles selected following the call for papers). The presentations of each paper/Presenter (maximum 15') will be followed by discussion (maximum 10'). In total there will be strictly 20'-25' in total for each paper. The Chairs of the parallel sessions should ensure the timing is respected.

→ Second day (Thursday, 26 September 2019):

Plenary session (2): Chaired by María Ángeles Martín Prats (Founder and President Skylife Engineering, and Professor at the University of Seville, ES), the invited keynote speakers Koen Frenken (Utrecht University, NL) and Anita Schjøll Brede (Co-founder and CEO of IRIS.AI, NO) will touch upon the central argument of CONCORDi 2019: innovation and industrial transformation. They will provide the attendees with the completeness of an academic as well as an entrepreneurial angle. The titles of their keynotes self-explain this complementary: "Related industrial diversification as an economic development strategy: theory, empirics and policy considerations" and "An entrepreneurial experience questing to change the world with artificial intelligence, science and weirdness". Each of the keynote speakers will have about 20' of time. It will follow a short debate and Q&A session of about 10' of time.

Parallel sessions III and IV: There will be the second round of parallel sessions of the Conference dedicated to the presentations of articles selected following the call for papers. The presentations of each paper/Presenter (maximum 15') will be followed by an open discussion with the Conference attendees (maximum 5'), and a final reply (maximum 5') by the presenter/author. In total there will be strictly 20'-25' in total for each paper. The Chairs of the parallel sessions should ensure the timing is respected.

Plenary session (3): Chaired by Luis Delgado (Acting Director, Directorate for Growth and Innovation, JRC, European Commission), this Plenary session will be opened by the keynote of Hiroshi Kuniyoshi (Deputy Director-General, United Nations Industrial Development Organization - UNIDO) who will introduce the "Industrial innovation and the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals". He will have about 20' of time for his speech to which will follow a short Q&A session of about 10' of time.

A round table discussion by European Commission policy stakeholders will follow. The panellists will be expected to briefly (in total, about 10' of time for panellist) relate the agenda of their respective services/institutions and in particular in relation to the central theme of CONCORDi 2019, and to contribute the policy relevant conclusions. ANNEX III Bios of Scientific Committee members and of Keynote Speakers

Román Arjona is Chief Economist and Head of Strategy and Foresight at the Directorate-General for Research & Innovation of the European Commission (BE). He is Vice-Chair of the OECD's Committee for Science and Technology Policy (CSTP). He previously served in the Spanish government as Secretary-General for Science, Technology and Innovation, and before joining the Commission he was adviser to the Spanish State Secretary and the Spanish Minister for Science and Technology. Mr Arjona worked for the European Investment Bank and the International Monetary Fund as well as for the OECD as an economist. He is a former member of the World Economic Forum's High-Level Advisory Group of the Europe Inclusive Growth and Competitiveness Lab, and its Global Agenda Council on New Growth Models. Román graduated in Economics at the University of Valencia, and holds a Masters' degree in European Economic Studies from the College of Europe in Bruges and a PhD in Economics from the European University Institute in Florence.

Anna Bergek is Full Professor in Innovation Systems and Technology Policy at the Chalmers University of Technology (SE) since October 2016. She studies innovation in mature industries and innovation systems, with particular focus on the energy sector. The aim of the research is to understand under what conditions mature companies and industries can remain innovative, how new technology can enter and diffuse in sectors that are in need of a sustainability transition and how energy and technology policy instruments should be designed to facilitate innovation and transition. Since 1 March 2018, Anna is Deputy Head of Department and Vice Head of Department with focus on research.

Alex Coad is Professor at CENTRUM-Católica Graduate Business School (Lima, Peru), and is interested in the areas of firm-level R&D investment, firm performance, entrepreneurship, strategy, and innovation policy. Alex has published over 70 articles in international peer-reviewed journals. According to google-scholar, Alex has over 6000 citations and an H-index of 36. Alex is an Editor at the journals 'Research Policy' (Financial Times Top 50 list of journals for Business Schools) and 'Small Business Economics', and an Associate Editor for 'Industrial and Corporate Change' (Oxford University Press). Previously Alex obtained a PhD from Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne and the Sant'Anna School, Pisa, Italy, and held academic positions at the Max Planck Institute (Jena, DE), Aalborg University (Denmark), and SPRU (Univ. Sussex, UK), before being an Economic Analyst at the European Commission (IRI group, JRC-IPTS, Sevilla). In December 2016, Alex received the 2016 Nelson Prize at University of California Berkeley.

Chiara Criscuolo is head of the Productivity and Business Dynamics Division in the Directorate for Science, Technology and Innovation at the OECD. Chiara's work focuses on entrepreneurship, enterprise dynamics, productivity and policy evaluation. She has coordinated large cross-country microdata projects on employment dynamics, productivity, as well as research and development. Chiara has played a lead role in advancing the use of firm level data and of microdata projects within the OECD. She co-manages the Global Forum on Productivity. She has contributed to key horizontal and high level projects and publications, including the OECD volumes "Future of Productivity", "New sources of growth: Knowledge Based capital", and the "OECD Innovation Strategy". She co-manages the Global Forum on Productivity and is a member of the French and Portuguese National Productivity Boards. Her research on innovation, business dynamics, productivity, policy evaluation and international trade has been published in leading academic journals. She also lectured at the University of Siena, City University and University of Cambridge. Chiara is a research associate at the Centre for Economic Performance at the London School of Economics, where she was a research fellow before joining the OECD. She holds a doctoral degree in Economics from University College London.

Koen Frenken is Full Professor in Innovation Studies at the Copernicus Institute of Sustainable Development at Utrecht University (NL). He received personal grants in the Marie Curie, NWO Vidi and NWO Vici programmes. Theoretical interests include evolutionary economics, institutional theory and complexity theory. He mainly works on breakthrough innovation, economic geography, platform economy and innovation policy. You can follow Koen on Twitter via @kfrenken.

Bronwyn H. Hall is Professor of Economics Emerita at the University of California at Berkeley (USA), Visiting Professor at MPI-Munich (DE), and a Research Associate at the NBER and IFS-London (UK). She has published numerous articles on the economics and econometrics of technical change and innovation and is the editor of the Handbook of the Economics of Innovation in the Elsevier series. Her research includes comparative analysis of the U.S. and European patent systems, the use of patent citation data for the valuation of intangible (knowledge) assets, comparative firm level R&D investment and innovation studies, measuring the returns to R&D and innovation, and analysis of technology policies such as R&D subsidies and tax incentives. She has made substantial contributions to applied economic research via the creation of software for econometric estimation and of firm level datasets for the study of innovation, including the widely used NBER dataset for U.S. patents.

Hiroshi Kuniyoshi Mr. Hiroshi Kuniyoshi is the Deputy to the Director General and the Managing Director of External Relations and Policy Research (EPR) of UNIDO since April 2017.

In April 1984, he joined the Government of Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Industry (now known as METI), where he planned and implemented a variety of industrial and technology policies in various sections, including the Planning Office of the Minister's Secretariat, the Natural Resources and Energy Agency, the Small and Medium Enterprises Agency and the Kansai Bureau.

He served as an advisor to the Director General of UNIDO from 2000 to 2004, and made a considerable contribution to UNIDO's strategic pursuits through the coordination of the Board of Directors' Retreats, Industrial Development Forums among other activities.

In August 2006, Mr. Kuniyoshi was appointed Professor at Tokyo Institute of Technology, where he conducted research and education in policy studies related to industry, technology and innovation.

In September 2012, he was appointed Executive Director of the New Energy and Industrial Technology Development Organization (NEDO), one of Japan's largest public organizations in research and development. At NEDO, he was in charge of global collaborative projects for the development of low-carbon technologies such as renewable energy, battery storage and smart grids. He also served as Vice-Chairman of the Global Smart Grid Federation, a world-wide network of national associations for smart grids.

In January 2016, he was appointed Head of the UNIDO Investment and Technology Promotion Office, Tokyo, (UNIDO ITPO Tokyo), where he worked closely with Japanese industries in areas related to technology transfer and investments to developing countries.
